Agreement Reached In Building Trades

COMMITTEE IS SET UP TO END DISPUTE

Truman Sees Trend To Settle Problems Without Force

Washington, Feb. 1.—Announcing a top-level agreement in the building trades for voluntary arbitration to avoid strikes, President Truman today reported signs of a national trend to solve labor disputes without force.

Mr. Truman reaffirmed, at a news conference his belief that free collective bargaining should be the country's labor policy—thereby implying opposition to harsher strike control measures now before congress.

The agreement covering nearly 2,000,000 AFL construction trades unionists sets up a joint national conference committee to settle any dispute which is voluntarily submitted to it by mutual agreement.

It was signed by the Associated General Contractors of America for management and by leaders of the AFL Building and Construction Trades council.

Mr. Truman called it a "notable step along the road to industrial peace," and commented on the "good labor news" in steel and rubber within the past ten days.

The president expressed the hope that the idea behind the building trades agreement would be taken up in other industries.

In a joint letter to the president, the two parties described the agreement as providing a national joint conference committee for the settlement of any dispute which is voluntarily submitted to the committee by mutual agreement.

Mr. Truman wrote congratulating both sides. He said:

"Now that most of the wartime controls have been removed it is appropriate that in the American tradition labor and management assume their negotiable the present plan full responsibility. You have without government participation. The public and the government look to you to make it work."

In a separate statement Mr. Truman called attention to recent agreements in the steel and rubber industries and said that was "good labor news." He referred to the management-labor agreement with the U. S. Steel corporation and its subsidiaries on elimination of wage rate inequities, and postponing expiration of the existing contract with the United Steel Workers (CIO) until April 30th.

Mr. Truman said the U. S. Rubber company and the CIO rubber workers also have reached an agreement "on a significant contract."

"The making of these agreements," he said, "indicates a widespread willingness to receive industrial disputes without resort to force. We are moving closer and closer to our ideals of free collective bargaining."

A. J. May Engages Defense Counsel

Sawyer A. Smith, prominent northern Kentucky attorney and a Republican, disclosed at Covington, Ky., he had been engaged as chief defense counsel by Andrew J. May, former Democratic congressman from Kentucky indicted by a grand jury last week on a charge of conspiring to defraud the government.

Smith who served 16 years as assistant U. S. attorney and U. S. attorney for the eastern Kentucky federal court district under appointments by Republican presidents, would like to be excused from any statements on defense plans.

Bi-Monthly Meeting Held

The Veterans Service Committee held its regular bi-monthly meeting, Tuesday, January 28, at 7:30 p. m. At a meeting two weeks ago the new hour of meeting and new date were selected. The meetings will be held in the US Employment Office on the second and last Tuesdays of each month in the future.

Mr. Devert Owens, Coordinator of the Hazard Vocational School was the guest speaker. Mr. Owens' talk was on Training under Public Law 346, commonly called the "G. I. Bill of Rights." Mr. Owens accented the changes brought about by Public Law 679, which contains the much publicized "ceiling" clause. Mr. Owens, Training Facilities Officer for this Section, went into detail and cited actual cases involving technical questions. Both men participated in a round table discussion of the training benefits.

Those present were: Miss Gladys Combs, Mrs. Robert Mohn, Mr. Ike Adams, Mr. John Spradlin, Mr. Otis Amburgey, Mr. Owens and Mr. Devert Owens. At each future meeting there will be an out-of-town speaker. Members are encouraged to take a more active part and guests are always welcome.

Mr. Walter D. Fulton, Contact Representative, Veterans Administration, announced today that, until further notice, his office, in the Daniel Boone Hotel, will be open ten hours daily. The new closing time will be 6:30 C.S.T. This change is in conjunction with the National Service Life Insurance Drive. The drive is discussed in detail in the Eagle.

Adams Returns From Overseas

William Nolan Adams, who has served for more than a year in Erlangen, Germany, returned a few weeks ago and is at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Adams. He celebrated his 20th birthday while in Germany on December 9th. He plans to continue his school work at Milligan College.

William Waiter Hall Sings At S. R. S.

Last Friday afternoon at 2 p. m. William Waiter Hall, of the Whitesburg Music Department was entertaining the student body at Stuart Robinson, with a full concert program. Supt. W. L. Cooper introduced Mr. Hall and his accompanist, Hugh Adams for the occasion. Mr. Hall made his entry in exceptionally good voice and humor, singing well-loved popular, romantic and classical songs. The love songs were especially welcomed as they fell on young hands and hearts. The atmosphere which prevailed throughout the occasion was encouraging for future school concerts. Even the classical piano solos presented, were warmly received.

Following the concert, Mrs. Waiter Hall honored the visiting musicians with a special tea at her suite in the dormitory. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Cooper, Mrs. Marion Potter, Julia Dixon, Florence Gray, Mary Irvin, Mrs. Raymond Combs, Mrs. Hester McIntyre and Mrs. Wm. B. Hall. The guests were served tea, homemade cake and rain-dew ice cream.

Following the tea, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Caudill and Julia Dixon entertained with a steak-lemon pie supper for Martha Potter, Mrs. Wm. B. Hall and Hugh.

After supper all the guests attended the basketball game, the Pigma Bros versus Stuart Robinson.

MR. GROUND HOG SEES HIS SHADOW

We are not positive as to the day—Ground Hog Day. Several of the old timers we talked to, say that Ground Hog Day is February 14, others say it is the 2nd. We do not know. But it seems that February 2nd, is the proverbial date.

Mr. Ground Hog saw his shadow the 2nd, which means to old-timers, six weeks of bad weather, and it looks as though Mr. Hog is right as the temperature was way down Monday morning and a light snow.

If the 2nd day of February is Ground Hog Day, we shall have six weeks of bad weather. If February 14th is Ground Hog Day—that day is yet to be predicted.

February 2nd or February 14th it is only and old saying. As to our belief we do not believe a little whistle-pie could control the weather—do you. This is just another saying like the old one—if it thunders in Jan. (which it did) there will be frost in May. We will see you next Ground Hog Day and discuss the past one.

Show Highly Entertaining

The Woman's Club Variety Show given at the School Auditorium on Tuesday evening was a highly entertaining and a very cultural program. The audience was most appreciative and many expressed surprise at the excellent talent in and around Whitesburg. The opening number was the All Girl's Glee Club of Whitesburg High School under the direction of Mrs. Millard Tolliver. They sang "Pickin' a Sandman," "Sleepy Hollow Tune," and "I Love Life."

Miss Elline Salzer presented about sixteen little boys and girls from the Lion's Club Kindergarten. The children ranging in age from three to five, made their first public appearance, and they were as cute as could be. They played "Go in and Out the Windows," they did the Virginia Reel, and recited and sang many nursery rhymes and closed with a march all around the stage.

Mrs. Kenton Fairchild gave three piano numbers, The St. Louis Blues, the Boogie Woogie and Wabash Blues. Good old mountain music was sung by J. B. Holbrook of the Eighth grade, accompanied on his guitar. He has appeared on Kenfro Valley Old Time Barn Dance and is very good in string music.

Hugh Adams gave two classical solos, "Beethoven's Moonlight Sonata," and prelude by Rachmaninoff.

The Woman's Club was honored to have Mr. William Walters Hall play on this program his own composition "Prelude in D Minor." Mr. Hall composed this number while he was in service in.

Federal Action Urged To Ease Newsprint Situation

Washington, Feb. 3.—Contending the "competitive press is dying," Senator Murray, (D-Mont) called today for immediate federal action to see to it that every small and new newspaper gets a fair share of the available newsprint.

OUR BIBLE THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK: For I say, through soberly, according as God hath dealt to every man the measure of faith.—Romans 12:3.

WHY TRADE OF YOUR COUNTRY?

Why does any patriotic or loyal citizen buy from out-of-town salesmen? One reason is, that this slick-tongued salesman makes the buyer believe he is getting a good bargain, when he is really paying more for the same goods he could buy in his home town at the same price after considering his freight or postage.

The worst thing our business men have to contend with is the so-called printing salesmen. These salesmen are becoming numerous and they also sell on a commission and the printing is done on off-size paper and the paper in many cases has no water mark as to quality.

These so-called salesmen and the concern they represent do not care how Whitesburg or Letcher County survive. They are out after the sale, and not for the welfare of the community or county.
We wish to ask these question. When our recent war was fought, who was the first to come forward to help in drives for war bonds to help our sons? Was it the printing salesman or the concern he represents? No! It was your home town paper who gave space to reach the people of our county in the bond drives. This space was without pay. Who sent our sons the home-town paper in all theaters of war? Was it the printing salesmen or the concern they represent. No, it was your home-town paper.

Who gave to the USO—your home-town paper.

Whitesburg has many business establishments that can supply your needs in most any line. Why give to out-of-town firms? When a dollar is spent out of the county, it never returns. If it is spent at home it stays at home.

All the firms in Whitesburg have men at the head of the business who are civic minded and rally to the call when a worth while civic improvement is needed.

When another of these so-called salesmen, calls at your place of business keep in mind the above questions. Do you have a job of printing that is needed ask your home-town paper if they can do the job.
Ninety-nine times out of a hundred they can give you a better job than if you should order it. Think this over and let your conscience be your guide.

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS

(Times, Washington 2, D. C.)

Q—Can private individuals mine and sell uranium?

A—The Bureau of Mines says a person may mine deposits of uranium, but he can sell only to the Government, which does not guarantee to purchase the uranium.

Q—What caused the disappearance of the passenger pigeon?

A—The birds were hunted and trapped for sport and for the table. Since they were concentrated in very large flocks they were easy prey and before long were exterminated.

Has anyone ever measured the total length of the root system of a plant?

A—Such measurements have been made with astonishing results. It was found for instance, that the root system of a single oat plant, occupying one cubic yard of soil, measured over 450 feet in length.

Q—What Latin American countries have the largest white population?

A—The population of Argentina is almost entirely white. Other Latin American countries with largely white populations are Chile and Costa Rica.

Q—How long and wide is the Bosphorus?

A—The Bosphorus is twenty miles long and in places less than half a mile wide.
This strait connects the Black Sea and the Sea of Marmora and is an important link between Europe and Asia.

Q—Do spices have any food value?

A—Most spices rate low in all nutrients and merely furnish flavor. However, pa-rika and chili are exceptions.
Paprika rates high in vitamin A while chili has both A and C vitamins.

Q—What was the average value of a slave in Virginia in 1817?

pointed out in the Virginia Convention of 1829, the average value of a Virginia slave was $300.

Q—When did Einstein originate his mass and energy equation?

A—The equation was proposed in 1905. In simple language, it means that matter, energy and the speed of light are forms of expression of the same thing.

Q—When and by whom was the first map made in this country?

A—John Fowler of Boston

The Eagle To Be Subject Of Study

Lexington, Feb. 3 — The Mountain Eagle will be the subject of study by the University of Kentucky's "Distinguished Professor of the Year," Dr. Thomas D. Clark, if present plans materialize.

The widely-known authority on southern historical problems has announced that southern country newspapers, including many in Kentucky, already have been the subject of much study on his part and that he plans to continue to study as many as possible throughout the state as part of his project.

According to stipulations of the traditional honor, the candidate named to the "professor of the year" title is allowed three months leave during which he initiates or continues some major research or study and reports on the results at the annual Arts and Sciences lecture before his colleagues later in the year.

Dr. Clark plans to take his leave spring quarter and it will be during this time that he expects to visit newspaper offices in virtually every county of the state. "I plan to consider a good many Kentucky country newspapers and will visit the offices of all that time allows," he declared.

In studying the development of the southern country press since 1865, Dr. Clark explained that he will consider each newspaper on the basis of "the way it fits into the social system, as a news carrier and as a community institution."

WANT TO MAKE VETS HAPPY

The Nicholas Administration General Hospital located in Louisville, Ky., has 850 beds for veterans, and most of them are in use at all times. All of these veterans are boys living somewhere in Kentucky. One of the main reasons to make them feel at home as much as possible is the presence of the hometown newspaper. This is the main thing they ask for and do not have.

THOMAS A. EDISON

It is a good thing to remember that the wonderful electric development which the United States has enjoyed, and where electricity is in more universal use than any place in the world, was brought about by the courage and initiative of individuals.

In recognition of one who did more to provide electric service for the world than any other, the Thomas A. Edison Centennial will be celebrated throughout the country February 11, by electric power companies, professional societies, electric leagues, and other business, civic, and educational organizations.

It is no exaggeration to say that Edison made possible more appliances to lighten work and provide amusement than any other individual. After Edison conceived an invention, industry pioneered the way in making it use practical and economical for the average citizen. It would be impossible to estimate the benefits flowing from Edison as a result of Edison's imagination.

The ramifications of the use of electricity after his perfection of the incandescent lamp in 1879 are too varied to enumerate.

The Edison Centennial is a fitting tribute to the man who made electric service for the world possible. By the same token, it reflects credit on the individuals and companies who provide electric service to the reach of every pocketbook.

The record of Edison's achievements is a testimonial of what the United States stands for —opportunity—no limit on the exercise of talent and initiative.

When you turn an electric switch on February 11, play your phonograph, see a motion picture, or enjoy any one of the countless uses of electricity, pause a moment and think of Thomas Edison, a typical American who made these things possible.

CAPITOL COMMENTS

It has been a long time, almost five years since "Capitol Comments" was last written. It started in the early days of the depression when Roosevelt was President and Landon was Governor and brought you the news of the "New Deal" social and economic reformation, of "Happy Chandler," and part of Keene Johnson's Administration. It indicated the centralization of Government in Washington and its possible danger. It predicted the potential dictatorship of Unions with corrupt Union leaders and suggested that unrestricted, the pendulum of union influence might swing too far. It called attention to the fact that with the radicalism of the cities and the ultra conservatism of the middle west, YOU were the balance of power in this country.

You have confirmed that statement and borne out that faith. You showed, by your vote, that you still wanted initiative and industry to be rewarded and the free enterprise must prevail.

We are facing a new era, we must not in our enthusiasm of victory, or our biter-ness in the past mistakes of defeat or corrupt labor leaders, shackle the laborer or throttle his effort toward a higher standard of living and better working conditions, nor must we curtail capital and its efforts toward more productivity and a better mode of living. You Are The Balance of Power, you must stand watch on both, in order that they may work together in harmony for a stronger country and a better way of life.

The unrest following every war is a fertile field for isms. Socialism, the "K K K" and the menace of Communism, alien financed, and well organized, must be combatted in order to continue our Democracy. Our two party systems has been our safeguard, but regardless of your party affiliation, you must be well informed and you must think to guard this Democracy; and if you do this we need have no fear of the future.

We are faced on the International front with a complicated and uncertain foreign policy, with foreign countries avaricious for new territories and trade, and drunk with power. We are confronted with conquered countries and a conquered people who are looking to ward our leadership to guide them to a new freedom they have never had, but have always wanted for themselves and their descendants. Heretofore, we have ignored the unfortunate or oppressed of other nations, with a "hands off" and "holier than thou" policy and attitude and war has been inevitable. Now with no ax to grind, with no lust for power, and with the big stick of the atomic bomb to wield, shall we sit back and take no part in international affairs, and see another war fomented, more death and destruction and chaos? We shall we take the leadership in demanding and enforcing the rights of humanity, freedom for all?

On the National front we are faced with a National debt of 260 billion 400 million dollars with an interest rate that is more than one-fifth of our present National income, and an ability to produce that is more than three times our national consumption under present conditions. Shall we reduce taxes and let our National debt and its interest eat into the heart of our economic system, or shall we trench our spending and pay off our debt; to we the people who had confidence in our government and bought Government bonds that fought for our security. Shall we admit to over production and slow down our manufactur-

Thousands Contribute To Boy Scouts

Thousands of American men and women are contributing to a just and lasting peace through Scouting, says Dr. Elbert K. Fretwell, Chief Scout Executive of the Boy Scouts of America, by giving generously of their time and money to the boys of our country.

Dr. Fretwell pays high tribute to their "devoted service" in a message for Boy Scout Week, Feb. 7th to 13th marking the 37th anniversary of the organization. His message follows:

"As we celebrate the thirty-seventh birthday of the Boy Scouts of America we salute the tens of thousands of men and women serving as volunteer leaders in the movement.

"They are rendering devoted service, giving their best for our boys, through Cub Scouting, Boy Scouting and Senior Scouting.

"The marvel of the Scout Movement is that it is carried on so largely by devoted volunteers—men and women who give of their time and energy generously to the boys of our country. Many have served twenty, twenty-five and thirty years. Their service is immeasurable.

"Let us go forward in this post-war era with our faith renewed in the contribution the Boy Scout Movement is making not only to our own country but the world over for mankind. Indeed all of us—boys and leaders alike —benefit through Scouting.

"The Scout Oath or Promise, and its Law, deeply rooted in the very day living of all of us of all lands goes far towards reaching the ultimate goal of a just and lasting peace."

The city of Morganfield,

Smart Lines Characterize New Chevrolet

Re-styled for the new year, with emphasis on a more massive front end and a smoother sweep to body contours, the new Chevrolet will soon make its debut. New front-end grille and complementing bright work, as well as elimination of the body belt molding, have done much to give the new model an air of greater luxuriance.

Welfare Commission Gives Statement

A few days ago the Commissioner of Welfare of Kentucky addressed a letter to each County Attorney in the State in order to acquaint the public, through them, with some phases of the new adoption law.

The Division of Child Welfare of the Department of Welfare is charged with the responsibility of assisting the various circuit courts of the state in the selection of proper homes into which children may be adopted. One of the primary reasons this work is made difficult is that children are sometimes placed in homes without the knowledge of the Division, and the result is that certain attachments arise which are difficult to terminate in the event it is found that the home is not a suitable one for the adoption of this child.

The 1946 General Assembly provided that before a child is placed for adoption in any home, the placement plan must have prior approval by the Department of Welfare. Such approval cannot be given without the Child Welfare Division making an adequate study of the home of the prospective adoptive parents as well as a study of the background of the child. This study involves time but is felt to be vitally important in view of the responsibility of planning for children on a permanent basis. In the event there is failure to observe the provisions of the law, the offender may be liable to a fine.

The Division of Child Welfare would like to impress upon the citizens of Kentucky as well as upon the officials who are charged with the prosecution of the law, that it is most important to the welfare of children available for adoption, that they be placed in proper homes. The failure to do this may wreck a child's life. The Division feels that it must always protect the children involved.

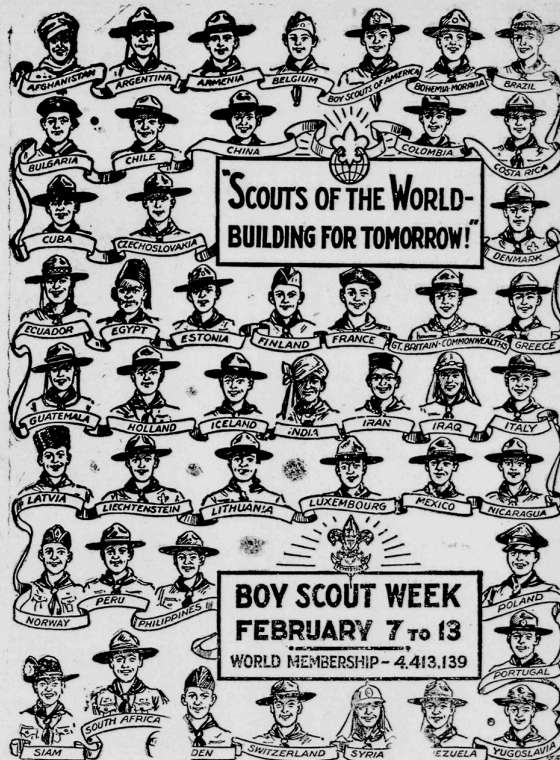

This new law also gives greater protection to the adoptive parents, for through proper study, the placements are unlikely to result in placing in a home a child who is unsuitable for that family.

FORD ANNOUNCES PRICE REDUCTION

The Ford Motor Company announced last Thursday a reduction of from $15.00 to $50.00 in the price of all Ford cars, in what its president called a "move to halt the spiral of mounting costs and prices."

Henry Ford, II, grandson of the founder of the company, second largest producer of low-price cars in America, made the announcement for the company. He pointed out that orders were held by the company for more than a million cars at the price in effect before the reduction was made and called the company's move a "shock treatment" to cure inflation.

Ford's announcement was hailed throughout the country as a challenge to business and labor to end the course of inflation which has continued since the opening of World War II. While no other major auto company has yet followed Ford's example it was anticipated that settlement of wage discussion due soon may result in a general downward trend in prices.

Egyptians Uncover Temple Nero Used

CAIRO.—A temple to the Egyptian god Thoth, believed built 3,000 years ago by Rameses II, and used through the Roman emperor Nero's time, has been uncovered in excavations 50 miles south of Cairo.

Dr. Abdel Monem Abou Bakr, antiquities professor at Farouk First university, said there was evidence that Nero visited the temple and worshipped there. Nero's name was found in the temple and a painting on the walls depicts Nero presenting gifts to Thoth, he added. The names of Egyptian Pharaohs are engraved on the walls.

Dr. Bakr said he believed Nero ordered paintings of Rameses II removed from the walls and substituted his own picture in an effort to show Egyptians he respected their gods. Several huge statues were uncovered, including a well-done head of a statue which Dr. Bakr believes was of Rameses II. Tombs in the temple contained coffins of storks.

McCarthy Argues Landlords Should Receive Increase

Washington, Feb. 1.—Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) declared today Maj. Gen. Philip B. Fleming's decision to order a 10 per cent rent ceiling boost without consulting President Truman proves landlords should receive an increase.

Fleming, administrator of the office of temporary controls, told the senate banking committee he ordered the hike into effect not knowing the president has repeatedly opposed such a move.

James W. Follin, Fleming's deputy, was going ahead with the order when it was killed abruptly at the White House. The mixup occurred late Wednesday, while Fleming was in Iowa to attend his mother's funeral.

The Wisconsin first-term senator questioned Fleming intensively following his statement yesterday.

"He admitted that if rent controls were taken off all rental units it would ease the situation a great deal," Fleming said he had talked to the president about rents in a general way and left thinking he would be justified in ordering an increase.

"I do not know his policy before as I do now," he added.

BOTTOM FORK

The Parent-Teachers Association met last Wednesday night. Visitors were Mr. Bob Blair and Dr. Collins, our County Health Officer. Mr. Blair made an interesting talk on the school and about some of the grade school children playing hooky over the county.

But the school of Bottom Fork has had very good attendance so far this year as we have had a very rough winter for the little ones to go to school.

Dr. Collins read some mighty good poetry to the parents and teachers. They all like this time. They took up their business from here and the meeting was dismissed until next meeting time, and led in prayer, by one of the school children saying the Lord's prayer.

This was fine for a little school girl to do. Our lunch room is going just fine. A good bunch of children eat there and it is handy for some of them.

It has been heard that our neighbor, Doyle Hooper, is doing some better and has been out on the road a time or two. We are hoping to see him well again. His wife has been a little ill but at this writing she is some better. Their daughter Georgia Lu is here visiting them from Pikeville school. She is liking it fine over there this year and we wish her a success in school.

Mrs. Bruce Thehl's son, Bruce Lester became ill Saturday and had to be rushed to Fleming Hospital Sunday morning. He is some better and we are hoping he can come home soon.

A large crowd attended Sunday night service at Mayking Clinton Kinner became a member of that church. We are proud of him, he is a fine boy.

Doyle Webb, a student of Pikeville College is visiting homefolks over the week end. Mrs. Susan Webb visited her aged father and mother last week. Mr. and Mrs. Enoch Webb of the head of the river section. Uncle Enoch is very ill, not able to stir around.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Blair were visiting Mrs. Blair's parents, Billy Sparks Sunday.

James McAuley, U. of K., was a week end visitor at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. McAuley at Kona.

Mrs. Bill Adams gave a surprise shower for her daughter, Mrs. Fred Caudill, Sunday afternoon at her home. There were about 45 friends present and after the gifts were opened a plate lunch and coca cola were served and prizes were given. All reported a nice time.

Moon Worship in Early Arabia Told by Science

WASHINGTON.—Existence of a civilization of moon worshippers, who lived in southern Arabia just before the Christian era, has been revealed by Dr. Carleton S. Coon of Harvard university.

Dr. Coon told of the discovery of the moon worshippers in a report published by the Smithsonian institution.

The worshippers composed four highly civilized kingdoms which were the principal trading link between the east and the west. But of what were once "splendid temples and lofty skyscrapers," Dr. Coon said, only scattered fragments remain.

Their moon religion took many strange forms. Dr. Coon said that in reconstructing the religion from ancient inscriptions, it was found that the people believed "the sun was a woman, and the moon her husband—the stars their children, and of these the most important was Venus."

"These stars eventually became angels; people and animals were the children of the gods," said Dr. Coon.

This new discovery opens vast new fields for archeological exploration, the Harvard expert said. An entire new civilization is now expected to be uncovered in the near future.

REEDY'S PLUMBER

BY EWING GALLOWAY

I'm going to get more pleasure out of writing about Madisonville than about any other subject I have tackled since I began this weekly column a year ago. Partly because I know the Hopkins county seat and many of its civic leaders rather intimately for ten years, partly because it confirms the oft-repeated contention that the progress Kentucky needs so badly is mainly a community job.

When, some ten years ago, the city had an opportunity to get Federal aid to build a new and very modern hospital, 220 people contributed to a necessary local fund of $22,000 and this money was raised in less than a week. The institution cost $165,000. It is paying its way, without asking the city council for a single dollar. The only mistake was not making it bigger. Plans for an addition to the hospital are now in the discussion stage, which to anybody who knows Madisonville, means it will be built.

A million-dollar TB hospital is to be built just outside the city in the near future.

When other Kentucky cities, befuddled by petty politics or cramped by penny-pinching educational policies, were failing to grasp opportunities to get government aid to build new schools, the Madisonville school district bought a 17-acre tract of land conveniently situated, came across with the city's share of the fund and today the Hopkins county city has one of the finest high schools in West Kentucky, with a modern stadium on the campus.

I asked a civic leader if the city's school system were cursed with petty politics. "Certainly not in the last twenty years," was his answer. "Our school boards have one single purpose in mind—the best schools they can get. Superintendents, principals, teachers do not play politics. They wouldn't last long if they did. And nearly everybody in Madisonville is keenly interested in the election of high class citizens, with no private axes to grind, to the school board.

There is one catch in the Madisonville school story. Property assessments are extremely low, which makes it impossible for the school board to get out of paroxysm of it needs to pay teachers. A thorough going over of the assessment books is another undertaking in the discussion stage.

Public health service in Madisonville measures up to the best in the state. Health insurance, giving families hospital service for a monthly fee of $1.50 per family, is notably successful. The city has no slums.

Madisonville has no bonded debt. It pays as it goes. The city treasury has over $60,000 surplus.

In the last decade Madisonville has not had enough graft in contracts to provoke a scandal that would reach around the court house square.

The city government, with the local daily newspaper, the Messenger, always on the watch and ready to expose anything questionable in municipal affairs, does as clean a job as the people could expect.

Before World War II Madisonville's only source of industrial revenue was nearby coal mines. Now it has a furniture plant, and a large shirt factory is nearing completion. Its population before the war was 8,500. A recent local census gives it about 11,000.

If Kentucky had 10 cities and towns like Madisonville it would top the list of 48 states in public well-being.

Neuritis Pains Like An Electric Shock

To A Local Woman

Just recently a middle-aged woman of this vicinity told us that she had suffered 3 years of torture with neuritic pains. She said she felt like an electric shock. She said one could hardly stand it. Today this lady is again enjoying life, and she says the change is due to taking RHU-AID. Her pains are gone now. No more feeling like a knife gouged into her muscles. She is entirely free of her misery, thanks to this remarkable compound.

"Behind the Scenes in American Business"

—by Reynolds Knight—

New York, Feb. 3.—A more cautious buying policy on the part of large retail stores is apparent in the Federal Reserve Service's February summary of business conditions. The Federal Reserve reports that department store stocks showed a much smaller decline than usual in December and were 70 per cent larger at the end of the month than a year previously. Outstanding orders for merchandise, it is added, continued to decline and were about 30 per cent smaller than a year ago. Increased stocks accounted in large part for the clearance and price reduction sales which spread through the retail stores during January. December sales revealed the usual sharp increase and the total for the fourth quarter holiday shopping season was 23 per cent larger than during the like period of 1940. However, this gain was smaller than during the preceding quarters as evidenced by the 21 per cent increase for the year. The usual seasonal decline developed during the first three weeks of January, the Federal Reserve points out.

VISIBILITY UNLIMITED.—One of the characteristics that has made American industry supreme is its "divine discontent" with things as they are. No matter how good a thing is industrial researchers are constantly trying to improve it. That is why there is such a contrast between the 1946 automobiles and those of the Twenties. Latest example of this is a revolutionary new transparent cartridge for ball-point pens just developed by Ever Sharp. Their original cartridge was perfected after 18 months of research and 150,000 examples of the new pen are being distributed in the millions of Capens produced each month. But the experts decided they needed a visible ink supply for the pen. So users would know just how much ink they had left. The result is the transparent spiral cartridge which not only provides unlimited visibility, but even better performance than the original. Employing newly discovered principles of capillary action, the cartridge has a new spiral capillary tube which permits the permanent ink to flow continuously in one direction.

THINGS TO COME.—Food in brighter more attractive containers and with more appetizing names . . . B. F. Goodrich is charging the designation of one type of rubber from "synthetic" to "Hyacinth American Rubber." Plastic horseshoes which enable the game to be played indoors . . . A new chemical cleaning fluid which removes the oxide film which causes aluminum to turn white . . . An aluminum ladder with rubber covered ends for use indoors . . . An electric grinder with an attachment which makes it available either as a hand tool or as a flexible shaft tool . . . A tape dispenser which measures out cellulose or acetate tape in lengths 38th of an inch to three inches . . . A new camera, which develops film almost as the picture is taken. The company which is said to have it is not commenting, which indicates that it may not be on the market for a while . . . A portable electric hand-saw with a six-inch blade and a two-inch cutting capacity . . . A smokeless coal heater, which combines three streams of air to promote full combustion and eliminate the possibility of gas escape through the chimney.

CASH FROM WASTE.—Getting cash returns from corn cobs, grain stalks and husks and chicken feathers seems like a fantasy but the Department of Agriculture is setting out to do just that. Good results are already reported by leading industries and universities. A yellow powder called rutin is now obtained from the lowly buckwheat plant, and the University of Pennsylvania Medical School reports that it may become a specific for high blood pressure. Some 48,000 pounds of ground corn cobs are now used annually by SKF Industries, Inc., to polish and clean ball and roller bearings. Tons of straw, stalks and husks now go into composition building materials made by Celotex Corp. and Mawhood Insulator Co. A new $17,000,000 factory in Florida is extracting starch from sweet potatoes. The scientists report extraction of a synthetic motor fuel from peanut and cotton seed hulls at the rate of 90 to 95 gallons per ton. Citrus fruits, particularly off-shaped lemons once discarded as waste, are reportedly making the U. S. independent of foreign sources for lemon oil, citric acid and pectin. Not even the lowly sumac plant that grows wild over most of the U. S. has escaped the researchers. It yields tannic acid, a leather-curing agent now in short supply over the world. As for chicken feathers, the goal is to convert the 175,000,000 pounds of fluff thrown away annually into a strong synthetic fiber.

BITS O'BUSINESS.—The ladies are still cool to silk stockings with the result that prices are still easing. High grade silk is down to $5.50 a pound from the $22 of a few months ago. . . Look for sharp protests from constituents over the Congressional proposal to increase rents 15 per cent across the board. . . Indication that the air lines have reached maturity as an industry is seen in the Congressional tax to help pay for safety equipment. . . The federal state, county, municipal levies, apparently are not planning to protest such a plan. . . European textile mills will consume about two million bales more cotton in the 1946-47 year than in the preceding period when it totaled more than six million.

County Has 56 Students At UK; Vets Total 4,427

Lexington, Feb. 3.—Veterans comprise approximately 68 per cent of the University of Kentucky's winter quarter enrollment and the student body in general represents 119 out of 120 Kentucky counties, a report from the registrar shows.

A tabulation of statistics on the record number of veterans, 4,427, discloses that exactly 1,243, or 28 per cent, of the student veterans are married, according to the University Personnel Office. More than 32 per cent of the married veteran couples have children totaling 484, or an average of slightly more than one child per family.

Only 10 per cent of the former GI's come from outside the state, the survey shows. Kentucky is listed as the residence of 3,967. Women veterans on campus this term total 65. A total of 303 veterans are new students while 50 are re-entries. Continuing in school from last quarter are 4,061.

A geographical breakdown of the UK winter enrollment of 6,947 students reports Lyon county as the only Kentucky county not represented. Fayette county again leads the state enrollment with 1,510 student representatives. Closely following are Jefferson county, 474; Kenton county, 171; Franklin county, 168; and Marlan county, 103.

Letcher county is reported to be represented by 56 students at UK, from within the state. Kentucky counties account for 5,880 students.

The remaining 667 students come from 39 other states, the District of Columbia, Panama Canal Zone, The Netherlands, Puerto Rico, Cuba, Costa Rica and Canada.

NEWS in the WORLD of RELIGION

BY W. W. REID

"The Bible, the embodiment of wealth and the wisdom of the ages, happily is still the world's best seller," said President Harry S. Truman in a recent message to the American Bible Society. "I am afraid that we of this generation do not know our Bible as well as did our fathers and mothers. It is well for us to remember that the Old and New Testament remain as they have always been, a source of strength and comfort and inspiration to all who will seek the wisdom which they hold."

"Slowly Latin America is beginning to move away from its greatest single handicap, the illiterate of the masses of the people," says Dr. Ralph E. Dif-fendorfer, of the Board of Missions of the Methodist Church.
"Even in recent years, illiteracy has ranged from approximately twenty per cent in Uruguay to eighty per cent in Guatemala and ninety per cent in Haiti. More adequate facilities for common school education and recently a literacy movement sponsored by both missions and governments have steadily increased the number of those able to read thus creating an ever expanding constituency for Christian literature."

"Preparedness is not alone a matter of adequate military force to repel aggression and to preserve our liberty," said Bishop C. Bromley Oxam, of New York, recently. "It is a matter of removing the injustices suffered in north and south Africa by the American Negro to whom the communist is whispering so insistently; it is a matter of eradicating the prejudice that stalks arrogantly in anti-Semitism and in the religious intolerance that demands freedom for itself but denies it to others; it is a matter of understanding and acting upon the fact that the desire for abundant living is now buttressed by the belief that it is only ignorance and selfishness that stand between the common man and such use of the productive machine as will produce all that is necessary, useful, or beautiful, and distribute such productivity so as to make possible for all the physical base for the spiritual life."

In 1947 the Republic of Liberia will celebrate the one hundredth anniversary of its establishment as an independent nation. "It is a distinct and noteworthy achievement that this little nation, set up and operated by former Negro slaves from America, and their descendants, should have been able to maintain itself for so long a period," says Methodist Bishop Willis J.
King, of Monrovia, Liberia, formerly of Atlanta, Ga. "All right-thinking Americans will be proud of this achievement, for the little country was sponsored by a number of American agencies from the beginning of its development, and it has always had the moral support and goodwill of the American government. No agencies in America have been more interested in Liberia than the American churches, and no one of these more than the Methodist Church.
The Methodist Church, through the former Missionary Society, began work in Liberia in 1833.
Liberia was its first foreign mission field, and Melville B.
Cox its first missionary. Thru all the years since that early date, Methodism has kept its connection with the Liberian field."

The Christian colleges of China—there are thirteen supported by American and British churches—are playing a large part in China's contribution to the United Nations. They are active in the Assembly and in all major committees. Among the ten Chinese members serving on the Political Security Committee are Dr. V. K. Wei-lington Koo, Chinese Ambassador to the United States who attended St. John's University; Mrs. W. S. New, a graduate of Ginling College; Dr. Y. C. Yang, an alumnus of the University; an alumnus of Soochow University, and now its president; and Dr. Shuhsihsu, a professor at Yenching University.

IN MEMORY

In memory of our beloved father and husband
At last we have arrived at home.
Without the one we had so dear,
But though his body is buried deep
His spirit remain forever near.
As we glance around our familiar home
We fail to see a smiling face, And though some may come and some may go
No other one can take his place.
Each memory is like a charm.
Which we have gathered through the years
And as we count each one as a part,
Our eyes are blinded by our tears.
But some day we'll meet him again
When our race on earth is run.
So for the present and future say,
"May God's will on Earth be done."
For kindness we can't repay.
But I'm sure you'll find your just reward
On God's Great Judgment Day.

Beyond The Vale

Life lies behind, it is good to know, Life's trials soon will cease
And I can lay all burdens down, And find eternal peace.

I do not know what heaven will be,
I cannot understand,
But somewhere beyond death's vale, Awaits a better land.

I do not know what waits for me, Just on the other side,
But there will be no more pain.
Beyond death's chilly tide.

I cannot see beyond the vale, But surely, there is rest, Awaiting me when this life ends, Among the saved and blest.

I long to leave this world of care,
To bid it all adieu.
And scar away beyond the vale, Where nothing is untrue.

There will be no disappointments there.
No sorrow, and no pain,
But in that city paved with gold,
The saved will live again.

Beyond the misty vale of death,
There is a place somewhere, Where pain and worry cannot come,
Where I'll know no grief, nor fear.

Life lies behind and I am glad,
It has been a thorny way,
But somewhere beyond the vale, Awaits a better day.

The Bible says, "There'll be no night, But day all bright and fair That Jesus is the light" No darkness will be there.

Beyond the misty vale of death,
Beyond life's troubled sea,
I will be free from pain and care, Through all, eternally.

—Rebecca Jones.

Newspaper Quit
Business Because Of Guild Strike

Philadelphia, Feb. 1.—The Philadelphia Record company whose three newspapers in Philadelphia and Camden, N.
J., have been strike-bound since Nov. 7 by the American Newspaper Guild (CIO) suspended publication today.

The Record said the Evening Bulletin of Philadelphia would acquire all three newspapers and radio station WCAU.

Suspension of the Record left the nation's third-largest city with three daily English-language newspapers.

The guild struck the three newspapers for higher wages and better working conditions. All three papers, however continued publication until today with executive personnel taking over editorial duties.

In a statement announcing the suspension, Publisher J.
David Stern, said:

"The strike against the Record by the American Newspaper Guild, involving more than 400 people has gone on for nearly three months.

It has been impossible to obtain a fair settlement which would assure this newspaper of its ability to discharge its obligation to the public.

"This is not only because of the guild's excessive demands. Guild policy has actually restricted the rights of management to a degree where it has become too great a burden to operate a completely independent press."

In Washington, Milton C.
Murray, national president of the guild, said suspension of the three newspapers, "represents a tragic failure of collective bargaining."

The Record thus terminated 70 years as a newspaper and the sale of the three papers concluded 28 years in the Philadelphia area publishing field for Stern.

Stern bought the Camden Courier in 1919 and the Camden Post shortly thereafter.
He purchased the Record in 1928.

The Record listed more than 1,000 employees and the Courier and Post combined approximately 400.

State Board Issues Statement

Today, State Supt. John Fred Williams, officially notified county and independent district superintendents of adoption, December 20, of a Code for Health and Physical Education by the State Board of Education.

Supt. Williams explained that, although it is a great forward step toward making Kentucky a healthier state, the Code makes ample provision for limited medical and personnel in local communities and, at the same time, is elastic enough to encourage improvement.

The Code, well timed and planned to suit public needs makes four provisions: (1) compulsory medical and physical examinations for pupils and school staffs, (2) requirement for uniform cumulative pupil records, (3) compulsory offering by school of health and physical education throughout each of the twelve grades and (4) provision for the State Department's supplying courses of study and syllabi to serve as guides in setting up programs in the various elementary and secondary schools. It is also noted that the State Superintendent is given authority to examine local programs, as well as to penalize schools not complying with the guides provided in the specified bulletins.

The Code is here quoted in full:

"1. All Boards of Education of county and independent school districts shall under the general direction of the Supt. of Public Instruction provide for medical examinations of each teacher upon employment and every year hereafter and of each child, in as far as local facilities and personnel are available, immediately prior to entering or upon entering school for the first time and at least every fourth year thereafter. Public School Boards shall, in as far as local facilities and personnel are available, provide annual physical examinations for each child enrolled. The Superintendent of Public Instruction is directed to request teacher education institutions to provide both types of examinations for all of their students.

"2. Beginning not later than the opening of the 1948-49 school year, each public school and each teacher education institution shall start cumulative health records for each child or student enrolled and/or entering school; said records to be maintained throughout the child's or student's attendance, after which they will be filed as part of the school's permanent record and be available for transfer. These health records shall be uniform and on forms prescribed by the Superintendent of Public Instruction. Health data shall be recorded and recommendations shall be sent to both the parents and county health committee or council if any exist; follow-up checks shall be made of each case by proper or school authority and results recorded.

"3. Health and Physical Education shall be included in each pupil's program of daily and living in the school. A specific course in basic health shall be required of each pupil in the upper four years of high school. This course should be taken preferably during the ninth or tenth year.

"4. No elementary or high school shall be considered as having met health and physical education standards of approval until programs have been put into operation which meet the minimum standards prescribed by the State Board of Education and published in the State Department of Education's specified bulletins containing courses of study, guides and syllabi in Health and Physical Education." (This code is to take effect not later than the opening of the 1948-49 school year.)

Announcement was made also that the State Department of Health is collaborating with the Department of Education in working out ways of smooth introduction and operation of the Code in the counties. A coordination committee comprising personnel of both State Departments has agreed to call during the year a series of district meetings. These meetings, consisting of county health and education leaders will devise ways and means of coordinating and mobilizing local resources. The purpose of this principally to adjust facilities for effecting the medical and physical examination section of the code.

The State Department of Health, it was stated, is preparing a model health record chart, which will be discussed and considered for adoption at the next meeting of the coordinating committee early next month. Requirement of a uniform health record for every school child in the state, a record adequately maintained, is considered by authorities to be one of the most progressive provisions of the Code.

Eastern and Morehead State Teachers Colleges, in collaborating with the State Department of Education, are sponsoring studies leading to the writing of courses of study to be used as guides for establishing programs in health and physical education in the elementary and secondary schools of the state, as well as used for standards in judging efficiency of the school programs in these fields.

The Code, according to Superintendent Williams, marks for Kentucky a significant step. Particularly does he praise the optimistic spirit in which it is received by health and educational, as well as civic, leaders throughout the state. Recognizing that many counties are poorly equipped to carry out some of the provisions, the Superintendent nevertheless predicts that local leaders generally, vitally interested as they are in improving Kentucky's health, will make every sacrifice to raise their programs to comply with the mandates of the Code.

I. C. C. APPROVES SPURS IN KENTUCKY FOR LINES

POLAR EXPEDITION LOSES THIRD PLANE

ALBANY, N.Y., Jan. 22.—A new helicopter of the Antarctic expedition crashed in the Pacific Ocean today on a takeoff from the carrier Philippine Sea, but all aboard were rescued uninjured, Admiral Cruzen announced.

Name or number of the rescued men were not reported, but it is presumed the helicopter was of the usual two-seater type used for survey flights.

The helicopter was the third plane lost by this expedition. The first was a PBM Mariner which crashed on the ice, killing three men. The second was a wheeled helicopter from the Pine Island of the eastern group, which was lost Sunday because motors became idle. Its two occupants were rescued.

The wheeled helicopter lost today was starting a reconnaissance flight in good weather when it suddenly went over the side from the carrier. Admiral Cruzen said he had no details. Cruzen in a busy news conference also announced it was considered too hazardous to try to recover the bodies of the three men killed in the PBM crash on icy James Elsworth Coast.

Six men, injured, survived that crash. Cruzen also said he had been in touch with Admiral Byrd aboard the Philippine Sea, still 700 miles away, and that it might be necessary for the central group to leave little America much earlier than planned.

A surplus building, purchased from War Assets Administration, will be converted into a gymnasium at Bowman Field, Ky., for use by residents of the housing unit located there.

Kingdom Come

By Harding Ison

The K. C. rached up their fifth game of basketball last Monday by subduing Big Cowan, 24-7 in a ragged, but rugged battle.

The defeated K. C. girl team with one on its crucial clash with Big Cowan will shoot for victory over there next week.

K. C. boys pulled away in the final minutes after a score of 12-7 at the half time. The K. C. boys pulled ahead to stay ahead 24-7 with 6 minutes left to play.

In as far back as I can remember and I have heard older citizens say that Kingdom Come never has had equal chances with other rural communities in so far as roads and lights are concerned, but still they pay taxes just the same as other people do.

Here are a few reasons I think we should consider why we have not had our equal share:

1. Children can not get to school.

Little children who have to walk 3 or 4 miles to school wading mud and water and holding to blackberry roots to keep from falling into the creek. How do you expect them to get an education?

I think the parents at Kingdom Come are just as interested in their children getting an education as anybody in Leitcher County, but due to the above circumstances, some few are failing.

There are some families at Kingdom Come who have children in school age and yet they can't go because of no way to get there. Yet the Kentucky School Laws says that every child between certain ages must go to school.

2. Miners cannot get out to work without leaving home before day-light and getting back after dark and then sometimes they can't go out because of the road being in the creek bed, when it comes a tide. The miners have to take off a day and fix it before they can get out the next day.

I could mention many other reasons but space will not permit. The real climax I am driving at, is very simple: If we have to pay our taxes, I think we should have our benefits near home.

BOOSTING SALT LICK

By E. C. Kimbrell

Did any of you ever consider the advantage of establishing a factory or other industrial plants in a fine little 6th class town in which you would be free of corporation taxes for 20 years and in no danger of being fined for anything, at least during the tenure of the incumbent police judge, I trust the papers and Board of Commerce will not consider me lacking in civic loyalty publicizing the advantage of Salt Lick, as set forth in a letter from Police Judge E. C. Kimbrell, no taxes, no fines. Our late town council ordained a law to exempt any company from paying any corporation taxes for 20 years provided: They would employ 20 to 30 men; the year 'round, explains Judge Kimbrell who has held office 35 years. You have no town tax to pay, you have no fines to pay. I am glad to say, I have not fined a man in my police court for 4 years. This is a fine place for some company to put in a cannery, ice plant and a laundry all could be built under one roof. A place can be had near the C. & O. Railroad of the Midland Trail, that would be a money making business for some company.

Financing the venture should be no trouble, for our town has a good deposit bank with plenty of money in it to loan, and our clever cashier delighted to loan it to you. A fine meal and flour mill run by a set of good citizens. They buy lots of corn and wheat and make the best of meal and flour. We have a good sawmill that buys lots of logs and sells lots of lumber run by men that know their business. We have a fine drug store and hardware store and several other stores that does a fairly good business. We have four garages who do good mechanics. We have seven cold drink stands. A good shoe shop, two second-hand stores, 3 barber shops that makes you look good and smell good.

Cultural Advantages We have a consolidated school with about 350 pupils with good teachers, two churches, Christian and Methodist, two Lady Aids Societies, a nice bus station and depot that you can get to go any place at all hours in the day. Horseman and Powell are the undertakers.

We have a Masonic Lodge near the C. & O. depot, in the center of our town. Stop and see us when you pass through our little town. You are as welcome as the flowers in May. The C. & O. Railroad and the Midland Trail passes through the center of our town.

We have an American Legion post, Watch, Clock and Silver smith, here.

Old maids and bachelors are scarce.

New Remedy for Epileptics Is Out

Was Effective in Two-Thirds of Trial Cases.

CHICAGO.—Dr. William G. Lennox of Boston declared that a still experimental drug had given "marvelous assistance" against the form of epilepsy that is most prevalent in children.

The drug is "tridione" (pronounced try-dye-on), and Lennox said it was effective in two-thirds of a series of cases treated for "petit mal"—the type of epilepsy in which the patient temporarily stares blankly ahead, sometimes exhibits jerky movements, and occasionally falls to the ground. He said that some of the patients had gone for as long as 15 months without having seizures.

Lennox emphasized in a report prepared for the meeting of the American Psychiatric association that the drug was generally effective and even dangerous in the treatment of the more violent type of epilepsy, called "grand mal"—in which the patient falls convulsed to the ground in a violent "fit," sometimes foaming at the mouth.

Neuro-psychiatric disorders have hospitalized approximately 850,000 World War I soldiers up to the first of this year—some of them more than once—but many will return to duty, the association was told by Brig. Gen. William C. Menninger, the army's chief of psychiatry.

He said also that 500,000 men were discharged from the army for "personality disturbances" of all types, and that approximately 1,875,000 men were rejected for military service for the same reasons.

Assuring that psychoses—the most serious types of mental disorders—constituted only 7 per cent of all neuro-psychiatric cases hospitalized, Menninger said the army observed an "unexpectedly high recovery rate for psychotic patients who so often become custodial patients in civilian hospitals." During 1945, he said, 7 of every 10 psychotic hospital admissions were "able to be discharged home."

Sea Lion Goes to Dogs; but in Pound

OAKLAND, CALIF. — Harry Fisher, a wild and dangerous sea lion in his bathtub.

Fishing on the reefs of Bolinas bay but finding none, Fish captured the half-grown member of the seal tribe, sacked the animal and brought it home for his 12-year-old daughter, Lucy Ann, who named it Selmer.

Selmer left his new home for a stroll and stopped to put on a free show on a neighbor's driveway. The neighbor called the police.

Police called to dog-catcher. Selmer was nabbed. The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals was notified, and the sea lion landed in the pound.

The dogs apparently didn't fancy sea lion entertainment, and so Selmer was returned and locked up this time in the Fish family bathroom.

Average Hour Earnings

Reach Peak in March

NEW YORK. — Average hourly earnings in 23 industries in March reached a new peak of $1.14, or 50.9 per cent above January, 1941, 59 per cent above August, 1939, and 94.1 per cent above the 1929 average, the National Industrial conference board said recently.

The board said average weekly earnings, after a year's decline, turned upward in March to $6.44, against $30.61 in January, 1941.

Average hours per week rose in March to 40.7, or 1.2 per cent more than in January, 1941, but 15.7 per cent shorter than in 1929. Pay rolls, with 1923 used by the board as a base, had dropped sharply for a year to 171.1 in February, but recovered in March to 189.9.

Blame Rodents and Insects

For Shortage of Grain

WASHINGTON.—There is more than enough grain in the world to feed all hungry people—except for mice, bugs and other pests.

A group of scientists reported to the United Nations food and agriculture organization (FAO) that rodents, insects, mice and fungi molds destroy, after harvest, one-tenth of the 725,000,000 tons of cereals, peas, beans and oil seeds, produced each year.

This year's estimated loss of 72,500,000 tons is more than seven times the 10,000,000 tons of wheat the world will be short this year.

The scientists said handling methods must be "enormously improved" especially at the farmer level, to reduce losses.

Yank Weddings in Japan

Must Meet Jap Civil Law

TOKYO. — Occupation headquarters ruled recently that American personnel married in Japan must abide by the Japanese civil code to establish legality of their wedlock. It ordered the Japanese to arrange "mutually satisfactory mechanical procedure for registration of the marriages of American citizens."

There have been few marriages of Americans and Japanese during occupation.
